Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 30 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold. Northern areas mainly dry, further south sleet or snow.

Today:
Northern areas mainly dry and cloudy with isolated wintry showers at first. Rain across southern areas will gradually turn to sleet or snow, with any accumulations likely to be small and confined mainly to higher ground. Cold and breezy everywhere. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Any residual sleet or snow will quickly clear south, and long clear periods will follow. As the wind eases a widespread frost will develop inland. Icy patches likely for south. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Sunday:
Frosty and sunny start, then staying dry but with cloud increasing through the afternoon. Feeling cold everywhere, despite the light winds. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday frosty start, then dry with sunny spells. Tuesday becoming milder, after a spell of rain, this probably preceded by snow. Wednesday mild, cloudy with outbreaks of rain likely.
